THE MAYORAL TERM

The electors on Monday rejected the proposal that the mayor should in future be elected for a kneyear term, instead of annually. The decision is lardly surprising. There has been no notable public demand for the change, and those who have advocated it have not been able to present. The one-year term provides the voters with a frequent opportunity to register their understanding the content of the Leibring News, public demands the content of the leibring News, public demands the content of the leibring News, public News and the content of the leibring News, public News and the leibring News are the leibring News and the leibring News and the leibring News are the leibring News and the leibring News a Langus surprising. There has been no notably public demand for the change, and those wis have advocated it have not been able to present a case that commanded assent.

The one-year ferm provides the voters with a frequent opportunity to register their opinion to the conduct of civic affairs, and to make a change in the management if they consider that to be necessary. That they do not often exercise the power after a chief magistrate has held office for one year only speaks well for the earlier of the men who have in most cases been chosen of the powt. It would early matters if some one in Pekin would take time to enumerate and tabulate the various factions which are fighting for possession of the throne of that ancient realm.

The supposed establishment of republican institutions in China was hailed by the western twenth of the commander-inchief of the commander-inch world as the dawning of a new day in the Orient, Judging from outward appearances and fragmentary reports, the conditions of the Chinese people must have been worse since the abortive attempt to introduce self-government than before it. The proper was the proper with the proper was the proper with the proper was the proper with the proper was one law yasking authority, however corrupt that authority have been and hovever but the law. Under present conditions there can be no authority save that of whichever military leader happens to have camped his army in the locality for thim being; and no law save his edict.

It is to be supposed that in China as elsewhere the mass of the people want simply to be allowed to ear a living and live their leve with out molectation. That element would fare better tackers a live of the proper with the proper was a law of the proper was a law of the proper was a livery and live their leve with an animation is a misse of brigands struggling for the power to plunder.

To The Electors!

Ladies and Gentlemen,

Please accept my warmest thanks for the splendid support accorded me at the polls on Monday last.

This I accept as a token of your confidence in the policy of "Edmonton First," which I have done my best to carry out in the past.

As the recipient of such a magnificent mark of appreciation, and with your earnest co-operation, I trust that the future will witness us re-doubling our efforts for the progress of our city.
